MUIR FINE ART GALLERY
IS PROUD TO ANNOUNCE ITS REPRESENTATION OF JIM HUDEK
Modern, Contemporary and Abstract Expressionist

HOUSTON, TEXAS, JANUARY 20, 2012

The art of Jim Hudek is now available for purchase at Muir Fine Art Gallery. Jim Hudek is a Houston artist of discipline and talent developed to a high standard of creativity. Throughout his career, Jim has demonstrated a genuine passion in his artwork.

The painting style of Hudek is spontaneous and expressive. Borrowing inspiration from various forms of jazz music, his works are a result of the study of abstract expressionists such as Franz Kline and De Kooning, incorporating it to his own innovative style. Known for a unique blend of modern, contemporary and abstract styles, with an occasional splash of exciting colors and black and white, the art speaks to the viewer of modern contemporary tastes.

ARTIST STATEMENT

“Born in Dallas and raised in Houston, I have always been involved in some sort of creative endeavor. From airbrush art to acrylic and oils, I have ventured on a lifetime of techniques and explorations. However, my true passion is abstract expressionist art. It is this form of painting that I feel is most representational of jazz, my other passion. The free style of jazz is an inspiration art form that I transcribe into a visual image.

Through colors and composition I attempt a spontaneity of random brush strokes that convey the sense of feeling that I get from jazz music. Always searching and experimenting is the key to my creative energy. Most often I’m asked if I have a visual image in my mind’s eye before I begin. I may begin with some concept but more often that not the painting takes on a new life as the process is unfolding.”
